Construction Update

Recent ramp installation

Home Build

The Palouse home is beginning to near completion! Since the foundation was laid in August, the homeowner and 162 volunteers have raised the walls, installed windows, and completed exterior trim. Inside the now weather-protected home, rough electrical, drywall, and insulation have been installed. Indoor construction is continuing with sheet rock. We hope to finish in the next few months!

Our upcoming home will be in Moscow in partnership with Moscow Affordable Housing Trust.

Ramps & Rails

We installed 41 ramps last year, and we're hoping to increase our output even further in 2024! Ramps & Rails will be growing this year thanks to a $5000 grant from United Way of Moscow/Latah County. We are partnered with the Moscow Central Lions Club and the Disability Action Center Northwest to bring more repair opportunities to the community.

New Staff

Nolan Corlett

Construction Supervisor

Nolan grew up in Indiana and started his Habitat career as a student at Indiana University. After graduating with degrees in Economics and Spanish, he worked as a luxury home designer in Florida before realizing his heart is with Habitat. He has worked at multiple affiliates since, most recently in Seattle, before coming to the Palouse. He brings strong dedication and experience to the Construction Supervisor role. When not building homes, he bikes and skis.

Virginia Martinson

Outreach Coordinator

Virginia grew up in Phoenix, Arizona and worked as a real estate agent there. After getting a degree in Business Administration from Boise State University, she moved to the Palouse in 2009 and reached out to Habitat. Jennifer Wallace then recruited her for the Beans 'n' Jeans planning committee. She has been volunteering with Palouse Habitat since, and she is excited to bring her experience from Washington Trust Bank full-time! When not working, she loves to garden and work on projects around the house.

Emily Nate

Operations Coordinator

Emily was born in Boise, Idaho and grew up in Idaho Falls. She graduated from Washington State University this past spring with degrees in Sociology and French. The Palouse turned into her home as a student, so she decided to move back to Pullman to begin her post-college life. She is excited to start her career with Palouse Habitat for Humanity! She lives with her new cat Apple Fritter, and her parents send her pictures of her family cats from back home. In her spare time, she draws and plays games with friends.
